

Dr Jianyu Zhang

Vice President

Environmental Defense Fund

Starting from 1999, Dr Zhang Jianyu has been working with Environmental Defense Fund (EDF), a leading US environmental NGO and advocacy group, which focuses on the use of market-based instruments (MBIs) in solving environmental problems in China.

Dr Zhang Jianyu helped found and manage the first professional Joint Venture environmental consulting firm ERM China established in the People's Republic of China. He served as China project manager for U.S. Air and Waste Management Association (AWMA) implementing a Clean Production project on behalf of USEPA.

Dr Zhang is an executive board director of China Association for International NGO Cooperation (CANGO). He is a Fellow of the second class of the China Fellowship Program and a member of the Aspen Global Leadership Network. He has served as board directors of China-based publicly traded companies and advisory board members of Fortune 500 companies.

Dr Zhang is a visiting fellow at the School of Public Policy and Management, Tsinghua University. He is a member of the Lead Expert Group (LEG) for China Council for International Cooperation on Environment and Development (CCICED), the renowned expert body advising the Chinese government on environment and sustainability issues.

Dr Zhang got his advanced degrees from Tsinghua University, Stanford University, and Carnegie Mellon University. He recently completed his PhD studies in Finance from the Chinese Academy of Social Science.